Mount Moses: a special experience

Mount Moses (Mount Sinai) has been a place of meaning and reflection for centuries. In Sinai's mountain landscape, walk upwards with the group, our tour leaders and local guides. The hike requires effort, but guidance is available throughout. At the top, wide views across the rugged Sinai landscape await — a special moment to share.

What should you expect?

The complete return hike takes approximately 7 hours. You must be physically able to walk for extended periods and climb stairs. Participation is from age 16; consider your own fitness carefully.

Optional camel ride: anyone needing extra support along the way can ride a camel for part of the route for approximately USD 20. The ride is not included in the tour price. On this route, camels often have limited room to move and may be tied up for long periods; we share this so everyone can make an informed choice. The decision is personal and depends on what is manageable for you. Camels do not reach the summit: from where they stop, there are still 750 steps to climb. If you decide to stop early, descend on foot and wait for the group in the restaurant below.

It can be cold at the summit. Bring good warm clothing and windproof layers. Blankets and hot drinks are also available at the top for an additional charge.

What should you bring?

- Sunglasses
- Sunscreen
- Lip balm
- Personal medication
- Power bank
- Swimwear for the Red Sea
- Warm jacket and fleece
- Hat and scarf
- Windproof layers
- Thermal clothing
- Comfortable long trousers
- Sturdy walking shoes

Weather conditions and local permits may affect the programme. The tour leaders will share practical information before the hike.

Visa and passport

Travellers with a Turkish burgundy passport require an Egyptian visa. Our team helps with the application; visa fees are not included. According to the current official rules, travellers with a Turkish green (special) passport are visa-exempt for tourist trips of up to 90 days. Rules differ for other nationalities. If you travel from Turkey with a passport of another nationality, the rules for that passport apply. Every participant must check the current entry requirements before departure.

Payment terms

A deposit of 60% of the tour price is due no later than two weeks before departure. The full tour price (100%) must be paid during the final two weeks before departure.

Participation is from age 16. Good physical fitness is required for the hike. See the information about the ascent and packing list.
